Mr. Harshad Khade serves as an Assistant Professor in the specialisation of Operation Theatre & Anaesthesia Technology at Bhaikaka University, Karamsad, Gujarat. He holds a Master's degree in Operation Theatre & Anaesthesia Technology and a Post Graduate Diploma in Hospital & Healthcare Management.

Mr. Khade's journey in healthcare education has been guided by a strong commitment to academic excellence, professional ethics, and community well-being. Beginning his career as a passionate educator, he has dedicated himself to bridging the gap between theory and clinical practice. His teaching philosophy emphasizes patient safety, precision in perioperative care, and the development of compassionate healthcare professionals.

Throughout his professional journey, Mr. Khade has contributed to both institutional growth and student empowerment. He has organized numerous academic and awareness programs, national-level conferences, and community outreach activities aimed at enhancing understanding of operation theatre practices, anaesthesia safety, and public health issues. His leadership roles—ranging from Equal Opportunity Cell and Anti-Drug Squad coordination to IQAC and Admission Counselling—reflect his belief in holistic institutional development and inclusive education.

Mr. Khade values integrity, teamwork, and lifelong learning. He consistently encourages his students and colleagues to uphold high standards of professionalism and empathy in patient care. His ongoing research in infection control and quality assurance in operation theatres underscores his dedication to improving clinical outcomes and advancing healthcare quality.

He believes that education in healthcare is not merely about technical skill, but also about nurturing responsibility, respect, and resilience among future professionals—qualities he continues to inspire within the academic community.
